

MEDICAL REPORT

Location: Università di Bologna, Bologna Date: 14 May 2025

Reported symptoms:

Terrible stomach ache, vomiting, no diarrhea -

Duration and severity:

Symptoms started last night and are still ongoing, severity is moderate to severe -

Possible diagnosis:

Food poisoning, possibly related to seafood in the meal cooked by the patient's children, or a gastrointestinal infection -

Suggested follow-ups or tests:

Stool tests, possibly blood work to check for signs of infection, and a consultation with a specialist if the symptoms persist or worsen.